CINCINNATI:

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24

See communication headed "The mouth of the Mississippi" on third page.

No News of the Canada.

Business men await, with interest, advices by this steamer. Some of our citizens have friends on board the Canada, now due, but arrival not reported.

Business Revival.

Our hotels, our streets, our advertising columns, exhibit the impulse of the renewal of business. Cincinnati work-shops and wholesale houses are stocked with substantial, fabric, and seasonable supplies.

The Penny Press in Dayton.

The immense popularity of the Press in Dayton, greatly annoys a certain Mr. Spoilsman, who perambulates the streets of that flourishing town, now and then, with a few copies of some of the Cincinnati papers. He says that the Press has injured the circulation of other papers "by being coaxed on the people on account of its cheapness." "Oh, Jehovah!" alint that an idea?

Can we help it if the people conclude that the PENNY PRESS is the cheapest and best paper out? and is it reasonable to suppose that we would feel unhappy at such a result? We are inclined to think that this coaxing itself into favor with the people, is a way it has got, and that this "ardent" carrier of "the other Cincinnati papers," as he facetiously styles himself, had better let it circulate—it has such a coaxing way—all on account of its cheapness.

Ohio Journal of Education.

The love we bear to common schools, the regard we have for the Ohio State Teacher's Association, the special relation we owe to the Ohio Journal of Education, the merits of the paper under its present editorial management, by W. T. COGGESHALL—how State Librarian—the earnestness of our wish for its success, exhibited not only in words, induces us to ask, through the PENNY PRESS, for an increased subscription to this excellent Educational Monthly. Teachers, Boards of Examiners, Directors of Schools and County Commissioners, promote a useful enterprise by remitting one dollar to the Ohio Journal of Education, Columbus, Ohio, and obtain the current year's numbers.

The Debut in our City of a Home Lady of Culture—The Opera-house Re-opening.

We are happy to announce that an Ohio lady, of natural musical gifts, perfected by culture and training at home and abroad, Mrs. Varian James, will, with able musical assistance, make her debut in a Grand Vocal Concert, to-morrow night, at Pike's Opera-house. Her voice is a soprano, of good compass and marked sweetness. Eight years since, after a year spent under the tuition of the late Madame Amant, in Boston, she repaired to Florence, Italy, and was then a pupil of the celebrated Roman. What further tuition at the Conservatoire, Paris, and at Naples, she made her debut at Florence in the opera of Le Maria de Rhon. She was greeted cordially. The fashionables at White Sulphur, in our own State, were highly delighted with her bird-like song, her beauty and polished manners. Let a large and appreciative audience attend to-morrow night, and give this accomplished lady a substantial benefit.

A Distinguished Divine Drowned at Niagara Falls.

Many of our readers will be startled to learn of the melancholy death of Rev. John A. McCune, D. D., Pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Mayville, Kentucky, and one of the ablest and most eloquent divines on the Continent. This sad event happened in the Niagara River, about two miles above the Falls, where the Rev. Dr. C. had gone to bathe; and being alone, and ignorant of the swiftness of the current, was speedily carried out beyond his power to return. No tidings of him were obtained after he left the hotel at Tonawanda, eight miles above the Falls—whether he had gone for his health, on the 6th—until his clothing was found on the shore, on the 10th, and identified by his name upon a handkerchief. His body was recovered below the Falls on the 22d, and is now on the way to Mayville for interment. The most intense anxiety for his fate has existed there for two weeks past, without any definite intelligence, until the 21st. In the mean time, two special messengers had been sent out in search of tidings from him.

Dr. McCune was the son of Judge WILLIAM McCune, one of the ablest Kentucky jurists of the day, and the elder brother of the late Colonel ALEXANDER R. McCune, so celebrated in Mississippi politics and chivalry, and in the Mexican War. Dr. McCune was for many years a lawyer, at the head of the Bar in Northern Kentucky, and the author of several small works of fiction, biography and history. In 1860, he gave up the law, and became one of the most powerful, useful, and highly esteemed ministers of his church. He refused a most flattering call from the Central Presbyterian Church, in this city, and preached with remarkable acceptance in Indianapolis, and in

Editorial and Selected Miscellany.

CHARLES MACKEY'S IDEA OF NIAGARA.—In reading the Scotch poet's printed book of travels, as reprinted by Harper, we observed a fatal typographical blunder in a portion of his description of Niagara: "But my feelings, in gazing upon it, day after day and evening after evening, were not so much those of astonishment, as of an overpowering sense of awe, (awe) mingled with a delicious pleasure, that filled my whole being, and made my brain dizzy with delight."

LUMBER MEASURE.—To find the amount of lumber in a piece of scantling, multiply the width and thickness together, in inches, and then by the length, in feet, and divide by twelve, will give you the amount. Divide the number of feet in a board or load of lumber by twelve, and you have the number of cubic feet it contains. It is a convenient plan, when the lumber is taken from the carriage, to mark with a piece of red chalk or keel, the number of feet in each board or scantling, which will save you the trouble of again measuring when sold.

One thing very plainly appears by the publication of assessed values of real estate, without and within the city of Cincinnati, in this county, that those who own farms, which are producing profitably, have but a meager assessment, while many lots in the city producing nothing, are subjected to the heaviest kind of tax. The city property bears quite an undue proportion of public burdens to that borne in the townships. Farmers are let off quite liberally.

The newly opened railroad—the Dayton and Michigan—from Dayton to Toledo, will be a great business thoroughfare—it is blessed in the names of new stations along the line, each having had a saintly christening; one is named St. Crispin, after Superintendent Shoemaker; another St. Catharine, after the wife of a Cincinnati stockholder, Mr. Clement Dietrich; and the other one St. Andrew, after Mr. Gross, also a Cincinnati stockholder.

The site of the old mansion of Ethan Stone was long since shut out from Fourth-street by business houses; the rear part, his last residence, on Vine-street, above Fourth-street, is soon to be sold at auction.

Another Railroad Conference is to be held by the Eastern main lines at Cleveland to-morrow.

Erasmus Gest, Esq., formerly of the Dayton Short-line, and of the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville Railroad, is in Dublin, Ireland, seeking a cure for his defective hearing. All who know him would be delighted to hear of his permanent relief.

Land sales come off in Kansas next Monday, as follows: At Lecompton, Ogden and at Nebraska City. Land warrants are in demand.

The air, that universal element, is becoming a power in the land. By heating it, we have "caloric," which prints the Penny Press. Gas is made of air by a machine in this city; and by compressing it, pneumatic railroads are to add additional speed and safety with economy to our routes of commerce. Why may not a caloric engine be used as a motive power in operating our street-railroads?

Mrs. Nancy Heath, 69 years of age, a widow teacher, now residing in Pittsfield, Illinois, claims to be the first white born hereabouts. She was born at Columbia, January 1, 1791; but Billy Moody, Sergeant-at-arms of City Council, was born here earlier.

The Gazette has wakened up to the horrid condition of those confined in the City Prison. The PENNY PRESS has at last got an ally. We send up to the city an united cry—Prison Reform!

Is it not practicable, if profitable, to ascend and descend, on street railroad tracks, the hills to Mt. Auburn, Walnut Hills, and Avondale? If such roads were in daily operation, property in the suburbs would be largely increased in value.

The matter of a letter exposure by a Presidential candidate, assumes a new feature. "Mother," it is said, is Donnelly—a notorious name, and Wise was not wise in writing it. The playgrounds of these schools having gymnastic apparatus, were thronged yesterday with the little ones, glad to find ladders, horses, whirligigs, &c., all remounted, ready for their joyous use and practice.

A Veris is a Prussian measure of length, containing 1,166 2/3 yards, or 3,500 feet, being about two-thirds of an English mile.

Self-Education.

The medals and prizes, the rewards and the gifts, brought near to the eyes of pupils in our public schools, are not the only rewards and prizes that await the brave, bold youth, who enters upon the race of study with a determination to gird up his loins, exercise his muscles, inure his frame, regulate his diet, and oil himself with the unction of preparation, to win the Goodwood Cup, that neither "Princess," nor "Prioresse," nor "Flora Temple" can gain. We remind the boys that a public is observing their manners and their improvement; a discriminating, discerning, and a rewarding public stands ready to transfer the lad of industry, of unity of aim, of character, of rugged, stern devotion to right, to her best and most useful stations in society. Political aggrandizement is not now the Pharos, the light-house to attract your pinnaces, into its jagged-roofed harbors and quicksand shores. The day may come when politicians will be succeeded by statesmen. The useful man now, whatever aid teachers give him, is the self-educated one.

Little but Effective Influences.

The PENNY PRESS enters the household of a large number of families, and gives, in short, spicy articles, interesting news and gossip, besides dropping, daily, a hint and an encouragement, a hopeful word of counsel, or a cheering sentiment, to fortify and strengthen, as well as to delight and amuse. We design that this little sheet shall be worthy of saving the mother's preference, being of a pure aim, in its editorials, and of interesting and instructive selected matter. We design not to overload the idea with many words, or address our readers in language difficult to be understood. We wish, especially, in a small way, to be of service in promoting a genuine relation of cordiality between parents and teachers, between pupils and their instructors. We further wish to convey to the laboring man, of all grades, the encouraging assurance that his self-culture, his self-development, is the security of our beloved State. A system of free education, educated labor, and personal morality, will make us in-

Hon. John W. Davis, Deceased.

The announcement of the death of this gentleman, at his residence in Carlisle, Indiana, reaches us in a paragraph of the telegraphic dispatch from Washington City. He was a native of Cumberland County, Penn., studied medicine in Baltimore, Md., and came thence to Indiana.

AN INCIDENT OF HIS EARLY PUBLIC LIFE.

Judge SMITH, who had been United States Senator of Indiana, told a gossiping story of the youthful aspirant for public office. He says when the Indiana Legislature met for the first time, in the then New State-house, he observed a large, fine-looking man, with some disappointment, mark down eleven on the wall after the name of JOHN W. DAVIS, on the call of the ballot for Chief Clerk. Somebody else had received the remainder of the one hundred ballots cast. I saw his disappointment marked visibly in his face; he stood alone. I stepped up to him with a smiling countenance—"You are yet to be a great man." "What do you mean?" "I mean that you got eleven votes for clerk, precisely the number I got at Corydon for the same office." Mr. DAVIS laughed, and we soon became acquainted.

HIS ADVANCEMENT TO OFFICES OF TRUST AND HONOR.

He soon made his appearance in the Indiana Legislature; was elected Speaker over HARRIS H. MOORE; acted as Commissioner to make a treaty with the Indians, and was, during four several terms, in the Congress of United States from Indiana, viz—between 1835-'7, 1839-'41, and continuously from 1843 to '47. During the twenty-ninth Congress, in '45-'6, he was elevated to the Speakership of the House, in which office he served with ability. He was succeeded by Hon. R. WISNOMER. In 1848 he was United States Minister to China, and in September, 1853, was appointed Governor of Oregon Territory. He was succeeded by Geo. L. CURRY, in October, 1854. Indiana honored him, after his voluntary retirement from service in Congress, by again electing him to her State Legislature.

HIS PERSONNELLE.

In person he was large and commanding, of light complexion, prominent features, capacious forehead, wide mouth, projecting teeth, and light hair and eyes. But strength, and beauty, and worth, gave way to the strong aches of Death.

MORE GOLD.

ARCHERSON, August 22.—A party of seven persons arrived this morning from Pike's Peak Gold Mines. They brought with them over one hundred ounces of gold. They report much sickness, but only a few deaths. This party will return in a few weeks.

Pike's Peak Expedition.—Later from the Gold Mines.—New and Rich Discoveries Made.—Great Excitement at the News.—A Stampede Among the Miners.

LEAVENWORTH, August 22.—The Overland Express has just arrived here from Denver City, bringing dates to the 12th instant. The news received is considered of an important character.

Rich discoveries had been made in the Medicine Bow Mountains, near the headwaters of the Cache Poudre, which are situated one hundred and fifty miles north-west from Denver City.

Gregory and Deffense, the latter of whom is a member of the famous Indiana Company, left for the North on the 10th inst.

Great excitement still prevailed with regard to the discoveries about the headwaters of the South Platte.

Nearly a thousand persons from the Gregory Diggings passed through Denver City within forty-eight hours' time, en route for the above discoveries.

So intense was the excitement, and so eager were the miners to get off, that many left claims behind them that averaged ten dollars per day.

Advices from the South Park or Colorado Diggings continued to be favorable.

AN EDITOR SHOT BY A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.—A letter from Canton, Mississippi, states that on Wednesday last, Hon. Franklin Smith, the independent Democratic candidate for Congress in that district, shot Owen Van Vactor, editor of the Commonwealth, on the streets of that town. A controversy arose between them about an article in the last number of the Commonwealth relative to a discussion between Smith and Singleton, at Raymond. The wound of Mr. Van Vactor was severe though not necessarily fatal.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

REPORTED FOR THE PENNY PRESS.

Serious Riot.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—As serious riot took place at Tacony, yesterday afternoon. A great number of persons had been attracted to that point by a sailing-match, a picnic by the pupils of St. Vincent's Sunday School, and a target-firing by the Franklin Rifle Company—a German volunteer organization.

There was a strong gathering of rowdy hangers-on. The rowdies commenced the fight, as usual, and amused themselves by pelting the Germans.

Three persons were seriously stabbed, and carried off by their friends. The rifle company then marched down to the wharf, where they were assailed with a shower of bricks, &c.

The members of the company retaliated with the butts of their pieces, and one of the officers fought with his sword. He was knocked down and the sword taken from his hand by a police officer. Soon after this, some of the members of the company loaded their rifles with pebbles and fired into the crowd; two persons were injured, but their injuries are not of a serious character. The police used every effort to put a stop to the row, and were partially successful. The row, an encre, a Morgue stopped at Tacony at seven o'clock, when soldiers, rioters and policemen, including a squad of officers from Frankford, embarked on board for the city, where the parties landed peacefully. The rowdies groaned and hissed, as the company marched up from the landing; but, otherwise, there was no attempt to create a disturbance. Three of the members of the rifle company were cut about the head in a shocking manner.

From Pike's Peak.

LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 23.—The Denver City Express, with six passengers, and advices to the 15th inst., arrived here this morning. The passengers bring $15,000 in dust. A portion of the recently framed State Constitution has been published. There is no allusion to the slavery question in the Bill of Rights. Suffrage is restricted to the whites.

The local papers are silent in respect to the provisions of the Constitution. The latest discoveries here have been made between Cape Lapandere and Cheyenne Pass. Although the opening of new leads is of a daily occurrence, there is a great rush toward the Cheyenne Pass, where it is reported that one hundred to one thousand dollars are made per day to a single band. Rich quartz is found in abundance everywhere.

Emigration is light, but steady. Business was brisk at Denver City, and merchandise and provisions selling cheap.

Baltimore Outrages.

BALTIMORE, August 23.—The Sun of this morning publishes an account of a dreadful series of outrages perpetrated on Saturday night, on board the steamer Express, which left here the same evening with a large company for the camp-meeting at Choptank River.

After getting some distance from port, a party of rowdies, rallying under the cries of "Eabols," "Panthers," and "Ripraps" made an indiscriminate assault upon the white and colored passengers. Several were knocked down, stabbed, or horribly beaten. Several white men were robbed of their watches and money, the assailants blowing out the lights to prevent recognition. A colored man was robbed, and his wife outraged in his presence. On Sunday morning the Sheriff of Dorchester County arrested four of the ring-leaders, and committed them to jail. One colored man is said to have died of his wounds.

Hugh Sullivan was shot in the head and instantly killed, last night, when on his way home about twelve o'clock. Several arrests have been made, and the Coroner is now engaged investigating the circumstances leading to the murder.

The yacht Honell, of Providence, from Richmond, arrived here this morning, in twenty-three hours from Old Point Comfort.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, August 23.—A private dispatch from Carlisle, Indiana, announces the death of Hon. John A. Davis, of that State, and formerly speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

The President has recognized Henry Schondroff as Consul of the Prince of Reuss, of the elder branch, and of the Prince of Reuss of the junior branch, to reside at New York.

He has also recognized C. P. Stewart as Consul of Belgium, to reside at Charleston, South Carolina.

The President has appointed William T. Wright, Jr., of Maryland, as Consul at Santo. Professor Dimitry, the new Minister to Central America, will leave about the first of September for Costa Rica.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, August 23.—Stocks are less active to-day, but prices on the whole are well sustained, and in some descriptions higher than yesterday. Erie, 34 mortgage, 65; New York Central, 73; Reading, 44; Michigan Southern (a preferred), 25; Michigan Central 44; Galena and Chicago, 64; Cleveland and Toledo, 22; Chicago and Rock Island, 65. European Exchanges very unsettled, and rates are somewhat nominal; London about 110 and Paris 515f. best bills. The Hammonia for Hamburg to-morrow will take out $100,000 in gold, and $50,000 in silver. The Arabia, from Boston, takes none from this city.

The Board of the Panama Railroad Company, and the Pacific Mail Company, met to-morrow to consult upon the details of management and disposition of the boats just purchased—the Adriatic, Baltic and Atlantic.

New York Politics.

GENEVA, N. Y., August 23.—Quite a number of prominent American politicians have congregated here, to attend the American State Council, which will meet here to-day. The struggle will be on the time of holding the State Convention.

Daniel Ullman, who, it is said, represents the policy of Thurlow Weed, will oppose a call of the convention on the same day the Republicans hold theirs, in order that the latter may not be embarrassed by any union openly with the Americans. The Buffalo delegation, who favor a union, and act with the anti-Weed Republicans, advocate the holding of a convention, either to recognize the Americans, or drive them into an open rupture.

The chances thus far seem to be in favor of the calling of the convention, to meet on the 21st of September.

From New York.

NEW YORK, August 23.—The American Telegraph Company have obtained permission from the Secretary of War to open a Marine Telegraph Station at Fort Lafayette, in the Narrows, and will proceed immediately to lay a cable from that point to Fort Hamilton. It will connect with the Brooklyn line, which stretches to New York. This line will give the company unequalled facilities for reporting marine news, night and day, as it will also connect with the line already constructed from Sandy Hook.

Pike's Peak Gold.

ST. LOUIS, August 23.—The Omaha Republican says that Charles Leslie, of Marion County, Pennsylvania, arrived there on the 14th instant, with one thousand and thirty-three ounces gold dust, from Clear Creek. Leslie professes to have discovered the richest diggings yet found. He returns to the States for the purpose of procuring quartz-mills to work them.

From Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Aug. 23.—The United States steamer Fulton will try her armament before leaving for the Gulf, to cruise off Cuba and the adjacent islands, on a special service. The wind is fresh, south-east.

The boiler of a dredging machine, on the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, near this city, exploded this morning. Three men were killed.

Republican Nomination.

LOOKHAVEN, PENN., August 23.—B. Rush Peterkin has been nominated by the Republicans, for the Legislature, as an investigation candidate on the sale of the State Canals.

The vote stood forty-eight to eight. His opponent was Wm. Fearson.
